Program Objectives

Through participation in this educational CME activity, participants will have an opportunity to:

1. Identify the patient who may benefit from evaluation and treatment of common ENT conditions.

2. Define the indications for flexible nasolaryngoscopy, allergy testing, hearing screening procedures, and OMM/OMT in the primary care setting.

3. Evaluate when to refer a patient to an ENT specialist for treatment options.

4. Evaluate the efficacy of the flexible nasolaryngoscopy procedure, allergy skin testing, hearing loss screening tests, and Osteopathic Manipulative Treatment (OMT) on common ENT conditions in the primary care practice.

5. Achieve proficiency on the flexible nasolaryngoscopy procedure.
